"Knowledge is power." There is one kind of knowledge that is power and prestige in the hands of a woman. It is the knowledge of her own nature, her own physical make-up and the home-treatment of diseases peculiar to her sex. There is a great home medical book that teaches all this. It is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Over 1,200,000 American homes contain copies of this work. It used to cost $1.50; now it is free. For a paper covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.; French cloth binding, 31 stamps.

This great book tells all about a medicine that is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs distinctly feminine. That medicine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During the past thirty years many thousands of women have used it with marvelous results. It imparts health, vigor, virility, strength and elasticity to the organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the period of gestation, it makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. It completely banishes the pain and misery that are the result of a woman's neglecting her womanly health. An honest medicine dealer will give you what you ask for, and not try to persuade you to take some inferior substitute for the little added profit he may make thereon.

Mrs. Jas. Schaffner, of Freemansburg, Northampton Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to let you know the great good I have received from your medicines and the local self-treatment at home. I was troubled with female weakness, had pains in my back all the time, sometimes so severe that I could not lie in bed at night. I tried different doctors but they could not help me. Then my husband got Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, and induced me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. After taking six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I feel like a new woman."

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

The Spanish Oath.

In Austria a Christian witness is sworn before a crucifix between two lighted candles, and, holding up his right hand, says, "I swear by God, the Almighty and All Wise, that I will speak the pure and full truth, and nothing but the truth, in answer to anything I may be asked by the court."

Jewish witnesses, while using the same words, add to their solemnity by placing their hands on the page of a Bible on which is printed the third commandment.

A Belgian witness swears to be veracious in these words, "I will speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help me God and all the saints."

The Spanish oath is more elaborate. The witness, kneeling on his right knee, places his hand on the sacred book, and, being asked by the judge, "Will you swear to God and by those holy gospels to speak the truth to all you may be asked?" answers, "Yes, I swear." Thereupon the judge says, "Then, if thus you do God will reward you, and if not will require of you." In some parts of the country the ceremony is different. The witness forms a cross by placing the middle of his thumb on the middle of his forefinger, and, kissing his thumb—a practice which would probably be very familiar to some English witnesses—exclaims, "By this cross I swear!"—Law Notes.

The Ruling Passion.

A celebrated musical critic was recently married in church, and after the ceremony, as the wedding procession marched down the aisle, the organist played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." When near the door, the bridegroom stopped in the march and addressed the wondering assembly thus:

"I know I am committing a breach of etiquette as well as propriety in doing this, but I am not to blame. It is my mental organization which has become ineffably sensitive by reason of the critical nature of my duties."

Then he drew from the pocket of his dress coat a well thumbed copy of the score of "Lohengrin." Opening it at the march, he went over to the organist and said:

"What offended my ear was the fact that in the seventeenth bar of the da capo passage you flatted very badly, and in the andante movement you slurred the appoggiatura. Now," putting his finger upon the passage, "let us try that again."

Once more the organ pealed forth, and this time the player, conscious that the great critic was listening to him, accomplished his duty with credit to himself and to the great satisfaction of the critic.—Pick Me Up.

A Postal Joke.

A west sider recently approached a certain postoffice official. His face was serious; so was his voice.

"Say," he said, "I don't think it's right for you to make your letter carriers do double duty."

"What do you mean?" exclaimed the official.

"Why, we've got a carrier over our way who is at it day and night."

"At what?"

"Why, he carries mails all day, and then has an extra male to carry at night."

The official looked puzzled.

"That's queer," he said. "I'll inquire into it." Then his face brightened up.

"Hold on," he cried. "What does that night mail weigh?"

"About nine pounds," said the citizen with a hoarse chuckle.

The official grinned.

"Guess he'll have to stand it," he said. "It's just a short route, you know."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Consoling Thought.

The bishop of Wakefield was once consoling an east end costermonger for the loss of his little son. The poor fellow was rocking to and fro in his distress. He suddenly looked at the bishop, and, with tears running down his cheeks, said, "D'ye think I could get the young baggar stuffed?"—London News.

The Flying Fox.

The flying fox is a very curious inhabitant of the forest near Moreton bay, in east Australia. It lives in flocks and moves generally toward the dusk of the evening, and the noise produced by the heavy flapping of the so called wings is very singular. The flocks like quiet places, where there are large araucarian pine trees, with an underwood of scrub and creepers. The foxes hang in vast numbers from horizontal branches of the pine trees.

When there is a clear space among the trees, an enormous number of the animals may be seen, and their noise can be heard, for directly they see anything unusual they utter a short bark, something like the sound made by young rooks. Often every branch is crowded, and the young foxes are seen either flapping their wings and holding on with their hind feet and with their heads downward or snarling and fighting for places.

Suddenly the whole take to flight and flap their furry, winglike sides and wheel around like heavy birds. Many fly with their young holding on to them.

The creature is not a true fox, and there is a fold of skin which reaches from the fore to the hind legs. This is called the wing, and it enables the pteropus, as the animal is called, to float and turn in the air.—Philadelphia Press.

Kirghis Music.

One of the Kirghiz came into my tent, and, squatting down, began to play the kanmuss, a three stringed instrument played with the fingers. The music was monotonous and of a melancholy cadence, but it harmonized well with the surroundings and the moods they inspired. In a word, it was typically Asiatic. I sat and listened to it with pleasure, giving my imagination captive to the music, the soft moaning of the night wind, the gentle crackle of the fire. How many and many a night did I not spend thus during the long years that followed listening to the dreamy sounds of that primitive Kirghiz instrument!

How many a dark, solitary winter afternoon did I not while away in this foolish fashion! In course of time I grew accustomed to the kanmuss and derived as much pleasure from it as the Kirghiz did themselves. In fact, I grew fond of it Its soothing music carried my mind away into the fairy realms of day dreams My thoughts flew far away to my home amid the dark pine woods of Sweden.—Sven Hedin in "Through Asia."

Lifeboats of the World.

The lifeboat service is one of the very noblest of philanthropic institutions, and many civilized nations pay special attention to these means for the rescue of perishing mariners. England's lifeboat service is a voluntary one. The Royal National Lifeboat institution, which controls the bulk of British lifeboats, was founded in 1824. It now has over 800 lifeboats on the shores of the kingdom, and has been instrumental in saving nearly 30,000 lives. The French lifeboat service was established in 1865, and has 83 stations, while it has been the means of saving over 900 vessels and 7,500 lives.

The French service has one great advantage over ours. It is that the public board of works always builds the first lifeboat house at each station as it is established, consequently relieving the service of a great outlay. The German service was established in 1865, and has 104 lifeboat stations. The United States has 233 lifeboat stations The cost of the United States service is about £390,000 a year.—London Tit Bits.

A False Alarm.

"Oh, John, dear," said Mrs. Nervous, "I'm so glad you've come home! I want you to go right out and have that new neighbor of ours arrested He has been beating his wife and family all the morning, and the way they moan is too horrible for anything! It has thrown me into hysterics and a nervous headache, and—there, there! Do you hear that? Isn't it awful?"

But John, dear, looked out the window and only smiled.

"Why, what do you mean?" screamed his wife. "Are you as heartless as he? Will you, too, look on and hear a poor woman and her innocent children beaten to"—

"There, there, my dear, calm yourself! It's only the pulley on the new building that's going up on the next corner. It needs a little oil."—Detroit Free Press.

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

SUBSTITUTE WATER BILL.

The City Council Monday evening adopted the substitute for Assembly Bill No. 38 with but a single dissenting vote. The JOURNAL yesterday published a synopsis of the substitute bill. It differs from the original bill in providing that the Reno Water, Land and Light Company shall, or rather may, within ten days after the act is approved by the Governor, set a price on the property. In the event of the company so doing it is held under penalty to convey its water and light plant to the city upon the terms of its agreement, provided it shall be ratified by a majority of the voters at a special election called for that purpose. If the company fails or refuses to set a price, then the act is to be of no effect. There is no compulsion in the matter and the only effect of the company declining to price its property would be that the special election would be dispensed with and the entire business would remain as before under the act of 1897.

While a majority of the voters of Reno evidently believe that it would be better for the city that the appropriation of $150,000 should be expended in the construction of entirely new works, a feeling of justice or liberality to the owners of the present plants would probably impel them to vote for paying them a reasonable price for their property. We are more than confident however that they would not countenance such uncertainty as the leaving of the price to the decision of appraisers would entail. The result of such rejection would be, as in the other case, the reinstatement of the matter under the original incorporation act—unless, as some are inclined to the belief—there is something in bill 38, that does not appear on the surface and which would effect disastriously the legislation of 1897.

Suppose the appraisers should value the property at $150,000, the full amount of the appropriation. That would oblige the city to purchase at that price and leave it without a dollar to make such improvements as would be necessary to insure such ample supply of pure and wholesome water as was the sole object of the act so emphatically approved by the voters at the special election two years ago. Or suppose still further, that the property should be valued at a sum exceeding the appropriation. That would leave the city powerless to comply with the terms, and perhaps so affect previous legislation as to nullify all former acts of the City Council in connection with the water and light matter, and even prevent that body from taking any steps in that direction in the future. All of these things are possible if not probable, and it is quite certain that the voters will take no such chances as would be incurred by ratifying the purchase of the property at an unknown price.

The City Council represents directly the people of Reno, who are the only ones interested in the matter. The members were elected by the voters of the city and not by the county, and their recommendation ought certainly to have more weight with our legislative delegation than advice or suggestions from any other source. The four who voted for the adoption of the substitute bill were all members of the old Board and were re-elected last fall. That is sufficient proof that they possess the confidence of the people and that they truly represent the feelings and wishes of their constituents upon the water and light question. To ignore their recommendation would be tantamount to the rejection of a petition signed by a majority of the actual voters in the city. We are confident, therefore, that the substitute will be accepted by the Washoe delegation, in compliance with the wishes and sentiments of such majority.

REGARDING the President's action on the Eagan court martial the Sacramento Bee says: "That interference by McKinley with the decision of the court-martial is such a damnable outrage on honest and worthy army officers that language fails to express how damnable it is.

"Algerism will yet give the deathblow to McKinley if he does not free himself from its snaky folds."

MORE men were kill in the fight on the outskirts of Manila, than met their death in the entire Spanish-American war. It is nothing more nor less than the inevitable result attending an attack on an unorganized mob by an organized army.

A PLUMAS county paper cites the Nevada Senatorial election as an argument why United States Senators should be elected by the people. Bless your soul, Mr. Stewart was elected by the people—about one-tenth of them.

Home Forum.

The Home Forum, the new lodge recently organized here with a large membership, will inaugurate its birth in this city by a grand entertainment and banquet in K. of P. hall on Friday evening, 17th inst. A choice musical and literary program will be presented. Mr. J. Walter McRaye, the well known humorist, has been engaged to remain over, and he will present some of his inimitable sketches, assisted by local talent. He will appear in Fraser's laughable farce "At the Ball," and, by request, his own sketch "Gertrude." Tickets 25 cents. 14f4t.

BREVITIES.

Brother Booher of the Elko Independent is suffering from a severe attack of "epistaxes." We don't know what that is, but the editor has our sympathy on general principles.

The Italian contingent of Reno celebrated St. Valentine's day in their national way last night. The masked party went from house to house and danced, according to the old custom.

"Lord have no mercy on the cops," is the sentiment of the tough element when it comes to the matter of sending valentines. You should see some of the fine assortment Charley Leeper received.

If you want to buy rope, shovels, forks, hoes, rakes, or, in fact, any small hardware, go to Folsom & Cahlan's and you will get it so cheap that you will wonder if they have some way of beating the railroad company out of the freight.

Wadsworth is to have a steam carpet cleaning works. The proprietors claim that carpets can be shipped there, cleaned and returned at a trifling expense. The Dispatch says they feel sure that a flourishing industry will be firmly established.

Hon. A. C. Cleveland will depart from Carson the latter part of this week to join Mrs. Cleveland in Salt Lake. From there Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland will take a trip either to Mexico or the east, lasting some months.—Carson News.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fassett, formerly of Reno, Mrs. Fassett as a girl (Miss Benham), and Charlie as a young man, will arrive in Reno to-morrow morning from Spokane, Washington, on a short visit to Mr. Fassett's sister, Mrs. C. T. Bender. They will only remain for a day and Mrs. Bender would be pleased to have any of their friends call upon them to-morrow evening at her residence on Ralston street, between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

There is much for Reno in the near future in the water question. Pure water is a necessity that should not be overlooked by the people. Efforts are being made and will be made to defeat the people in their efforts to procure pure water. The present and future health of the city largely depends upon an ample supply of wholesome water. The future growth and value of property in the town is so intimately connected with the water question as to be inseparable.

Probably So.

Paul's bill to reduce freights and fares on the C P. is still in the hands of the Assembly Committee on Corporations. It will probably come from the committee in such a shape that the author won't recognize it. If the Legislature has the power to regulate freights and fares on interstate roads, Paul's bill, or one having the same purpose in view, should become a law.—Independent.

Lent.

To-day is Ash Wednesday, the commencement of Lent. The Lenten time is established by Easter, which is the first Sunday after the full moon which occurs on or after March 21st, and if the full moon happens to be on Sunday, then the next Sunday thereafter. This year Easter comes on March 26th, and to-day is the commencement of the forty days, exclusive of Sundays which intervene between Ash Wednesday and Easter.

This is the season in which several of the churches commemorate the fasting of our Savior in the wilderness. It is a custom of very ancient time, dating back to earliest Christianity. The churches have set this period aside as a time of preparation for Easter, in which prayer, fasting and self-denials are practiced. At first this practice extended over only forty hours, but additional hours were added from time to time until it reached thirty-six days, and in the ninth century it was extended to forty days. This is the length of time observed at present.

This being a season of quiet and contemplation, Reno church-goers will be seen but little in the social world until Easter brings them back to us resplendent in Easter gowns and bonnets. We wonder how many are planning self-denial during Lent?

A Recognized Fraternity.

At a special meeting of the University faculty yesterday it was decided to recognize the T. H. P. O. as a college fraternity. The matter had been under consideration for some time. Several months ago at a meeting of the order, a plan to originate a sinking fund for the purpose of erecting a fraternity building upon the campus was adopted, and a committee appointed to correspond with all absent members and seek to obtain their support in furthering the project. From the replies received it is evident the proposal meets with hearty approval from all absent members although not a few are far away in South Africa. Hence, in the course of a few years the University campus will be graced with another building, that of the T. H. P. O. Fraternity.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography There one may see large opalatypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it? tf

Mrs. R P M. Kelley Dead.

One after another the early settlers of Washoe county pass away. Mrs. R. P. M. Kelley and her husband were among the first who came and settled in Washoe valley after the discovery of the Comstock. They located near Ophir and continued to reside in the valley till they removed to Reno about twenty-five years ago, where Mrs Kelly has continued to reside till called away yesterday to her reward for a good and kind life. Her pure life and many kind words and deeds are to those who knew her best an assurance that the reward of the blessed is her's.

Mrs. Kelley was born in Scotland and was aged 64 years. She has four living relatives in this country: J. J. McKenna, D. J. McKenna, Teresa McDermid and Mrs. Ella Williams. The first three were at the bedside, and the latter is expected to arrive here Thursday from her home in California. The date of the funeral will depend upon the day of her arrival.

The Deadly Grip.

Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germs! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and Consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cent and $1.00. Money back if not cure. A trial bottle free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Beats the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and cold, he declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affection are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug store. Regular size 50cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded.
